

KATE SABISTON

GRAPHIC DESIGN CONSULTANT

Kate is a senior at Sarah Lawrence College pursuing a degree in Environmental Studies and Science with a focus on human rights, environmental justice, and climate change. She intends to pursue a law degree post-graduation and aspires to have a career in environmental law.

She is passionate about social justice and advocating for marginalized communities. She has been involved with organizations such as Humans for Justice, a nonprofit that funded the educations of human trafficking survivors. She is currently the co-chair of Herbicide Free Campus at Sarah Lawrence College which seeks to end pesticide use on her college campus and emphasizes the importance of environmental justice. Her desire to work with WJCI stems from both her interest in human rights issues and concern for how climate change will shape migration and affect vulnerable, frontline communities.
