

JOCELYN ARROYO-ARIZA

INTERN

As a daughter of immigrants who are living out their American dream, Jocelyn wants others to achieve their own. She attends Iona University pursuing a degree in Political Science/Public Policy with a minor in English.

Intending to pursue a law degree, she aspires to have a career in politics, immigration and labor law. At Iona, she currently serves as the event coordinator of Model UN, news editor of the Ionian, and a class senator.